Heal the Wound[©]

Teaching, Sharing, Meditating, Poetry & Art

Reclaiming sensuality, libido zest or intimacy after abuse or cruelty experiences is sometimes difficult, due to resulting fears and protection responses. Violence also can result in patterns of self-abuse which further disable and distort our pleasure-ability. Using awareness building and creative tools, participants are supported in moving forward on their personal growth and healing journey to a more enjoyable expression of sensuality.

ABOUT #53 VAGINAS AND VULVAS®

An Art Show Installation and Speaking Tour
Looking to GO GLOBAL

By Artist Georgia M. Reash

#53 Vaginas and Vulvas® is an art installation created by artist, author, assault survivor and PTSD healing advocate Georgia M. Reash, with the intention to inspire delight and discussion around difficult topics of the day.

#53VV is a tasteful installation of 53 paintings of literal/abstract interpretations of women's genitalia. Each painting offers a savory meaning with titles inclusive of slang and uncommon terminology.

#53VV celebrates women, the strength of survivors, and the joy of healing the wounds. It was inspired by Georgia's personal story and statistics estimating that some 53 million U.S. women have been raped since 1998. In addition, 54% of women have reported sexual harassment at work. The residual impact has cost our country $127 trillion dollars.

About the Author

Reverend Georgia M. Reash

Georgia's first professional calling arrived at the age of seven (7), when her passion for poetry and short-story writing was inspired by teachers and friends. After an education in social work and community systems change, she worked diligently to move individuals and organizations into their potential and used the power of words to inspire and raise capital for important work.

Following a major life transformation experience at the age of 40, and a dynamic trauma healing journey, Georgia discovered her talent as a multi-media artist, playwright and author; using artistic expression as a personal growth transformational tool.

Her written works include Journey of The Hummingbird Minister® (2010), Weed Flowers Book 1: Sensualities® (2018), I Want Good Sex: Reclaiming Sensuality After Living with Abuse, Assault and Stupid Meanies® (2021) and hundreds of poems and higher conscious reflections. Georgia's current art installations include Metamorphosis®, #53 Vaginas and Vulvas® and Heavenly Waters® (January 2021).

In her early teenage years, she knew her true hearts' calling was that of being a Minister who brings inner healing to people and communities. Her expression of ministry is rooted in the expression of unconditional love, and a deep appreciation for diversity in people and their spiritual experiences.

Georgia lives a vibrant passionate life as President of BrightSpot Communities LLC, a sustainable community development company; and is also Owner of Wealth is Within, an online and media self help resource company for women.

She is a motivational speaker and trainer on a variety of subject matters, all of which focus on the realization of potential in people, families and communities. Her mission is to Repair the World and Inspire the Spirit.

2020 Scheherazade Feature National Artist Selectee

Georgia was one of 101 women creatives in the United States selected as a feature performing artist. #101 Nights served as a catalyst to women across the U.S. to inspire voting participation in the 2020 election.
